

Hope

You wake up feeling like hell
As if you were trapped in a cell
The days look dark
As they leave their mark
But one day soon you'll hear someone say
Today is gonna be a very different day
Get out of bed and do a little dance
For you have been given a second chance
Your days will be happier
And a lot less crappier
Lights will begin to shine bright
As hope is in sight
Everything will be alright now
So take a bow
And pat your back
As you put that dark place in a sack
From this day forward don't ever look back.
